CURE FOR ALL; HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
All sufferers from coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, and irregular action of the heart are earnestly recommended to rub Holloway's searching Ointment well over the throat, breast, and back as the cure may require, twice a day. Invalids may confidently rely upon the beneficial effects resulting from its use; this Ointment is the most trustworthy remedy for all internal and external ailments of the throat.

HAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, ULCERS, ABSCESSSES, WOUNDS, AND SORES OF ALL KINDS
May be thoroughly healed by the application of this Ointment to the parts affected, after they have been duly cleaned with warm water. Under the action of this powerful Ointment, aided by the Pills, the depraved humours of the body will be quickly removed; even scrofulous ulcers and foul sores, however old or inveterate, can thus be cured. IN GOUT, RHEUMATISM, AND NEURALGIC PAINS this Ointment never fails to give relief. Its very first application lessens the inflammation and diminishes both heat and pain. This soothing Ointment, by depriving the blood on its route or from the affected parts, promotes healthy action. In severe and chronic cases the Pills should always be taken, as their purifying alterative and restorative qualities place the whole mass of solids and fluids in a wholesome condition.

THE MOTHER'S FRIEND.—SKIN DISEASES, HOWEVER DESPERATE, MAY BE RADICALLY CURED. Scald heads, Itch, blotches on the skin, scrofulous sores or king's evil, and such like affections, yield to the mighty power of this fine Ointment, provided it be well rubbed around the affected parts twice a day, and the Pills be taken according to the printed directions.

Many of the worst cases of the above diseases will yield in a comparatively short time, if the Ointment be diligently applied to the affected parts, even when other means have failed. When the Ointment should be assisted by Holloway's purifying Pills, which act upon the stomach and regulate digestion against falling into that disordered state, which the pain, restlessness, and fever attending these ailments is apt to produce, and which makes the recovery, and sometimes even makes serious the slightest cases.

PHILES, FISTULAS, AND INTERNAL INFLAMMATIONS Persons afflicted with these distressing complaints will find in this wonderful Ointment infallible means of relief, and all can effect their own cure without explaining their infirmity to anyone. The Pills, if in small doses, greatly assist the Ointment's efficacy; they purify the blood, and regulate the stomach.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following complaints:

- Bad Legs .. .. . Fistulas .. .. . Sore Throats .. .. .
- Bad Breasts .. .. . Gout .. .. . Skin Diseases .. .. .
- Burns .. .. . Rheumatism .. .. . Scourvy .. .. .

THE HOME RULE MOVEMENT.

On Saturday night Mr. J. Martin, M.P., and Mr. A. M. Sullivan, of the Nation, delivered addresses at Middlesborough, before a large audience. Mr. Martin said that their idea of Home Rule was, Ireland for the Irish; that the Irish people should exclusively be masters in Ireland. They desired, however, to be politically united with England as equals, and not inferior.

He attributed the depopulation of Ireland to the absence of Home Rule, by which also England made a profit of £20,000,000 annually. Mr. Sullivan having addressed the meeting, resolutions were passed in favour of Home Rule.

The Waterford Chronicle TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1872.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

On Sunday, at Littlehampton fort, near Brighton, Gunner Jordan murdered a child two and a half years old, the son of Bombardier Simple. Jordan had been reported by Simple for absence without leave, and on meeting the child cut his throat, out of revenge. He admitted the crime, and was committed for trial.

At the sitting of the General Synod of the Protestant Church yesterday, the consideration of the Dean of Cashel's motion requesting the archbishops and bishops to prepare a special form of service to be used on the 17th of March, in commemoration of the conversion of Ireland to the Christian faith, was resumed, and ultimately the motion was withdrawn for the present. A number of motions, of which notice had been given, were disposed of, and several bills of an important character passed through committee.

The Government sustained a signal defeat last (Monday) night upon an important branch of the great Education question. In a full house they were left in a minority of seven on the Scotch Education Bill, an amendment which insisted upon the compulsory teaching of the Scriptures having been carried by 216 votes against 209 who supported the Ministerial Bill. It is impossible for the Government to mistake the significance of this hostile vote, and the result will probably be the abandonment of the bill. The course pursued by the Government may have contributed to their discomfiture. They tried the same line of tactics which proved successful in the case of Mr Fawcett's University Bill—declining to take any part in the discussion, and leaving the debate altogether in the hands of their opponents. When, at length, they yielded to repeated taunts upon their studied silence and put up Mr Foster to defend the Bill, the spirit of the House was thoroughly aroused and they experienced a reverse for which they were not prepared. It is an auspicious event for the Ministry on the eve of a renewal of Mr Fawcett's motion, which stands among the notices for to-morrow.

General Grant's friends are making huge efforts to procure his re-election to the Presidential chair; and Mr Horace Greeley, proprietor and editor of the "New York Tribune," is considered a good rival, but an unlikely candidate. Mr Traut is pursuing his canvass in his own fashion. He has held his 876th meeting, and made about his millionth speech. We take from his latest effort the following scrap:—"Justice is on its travels. The reformer is abroad. Truth is mighty. Falsehood shakes with fear. Virtue meets with its reward; or as it was printed from Greeley MSS., "washing with soap is wholly absurd (laughter). Examine the accounts; look under the bed; overhaul the pantry; search the Scriptures; (laughter) for the epidemic of manslaughter is the spirit of the age. Stop thief (applause). Has not Thurlow Weed bought and sold more men than any slave dealer in Virginia? Did Terwilliger receive ten thousand dollars for proof reading? (Yes). Did Parsons bribe a public officer and Cassoley unite in the fraud on the people (sensation)? Did Wood receive 30,000 dols. from Gould and Tweed (yes)? Do the already desecrated defalcations of the Government amount to 200 millions (sensation). Did Harrison receive Bonwell of being six millions short on stamps (yes)? Read his report implicating Douglas, Boutwell, and Grant (sensation). Does he not accuse Bonwell of a defalcation, embezzlement, swindling (sensation)? Did not Buchalow, on February 26th, 1869, ask for investigation? (Yes). And Conklin get the resolution rescinded? (Yes). Why don't somebody ask to have the Alabama Treaty Bribery exposed? One million dollars, at least, changed hands (applause, and show it up)!"

THE COUNTY WATERFORD RAILWAY.

We learn with much pleasure that the County Waterford Railway Bill has passed through the trying ordeal of a committee of the House of Lords, and it may now be regarded as de facto established. The Bill was ably and energetically promoted and supported before the very critical Committee of the Upper House, by Mr. Muggerside, the Parliamentary Agent, and Mr. Edmund Power, of Clonmel, the talented and indefatigable Solicitor of the Company. The latter gentleman deserves especial credit for the zeal and ability which he has displayed throughout the entire arrangements necessary for establishing the line. Mr. Tarrant and Mr. Purdon, the able Engineers of the company, gave valuable evidence, whilst the testimony of Mr. E. Power, J.P., of Tramore, and Sir John Keane, Bart., of Caspoguin House, added not a little to the success of the Bill. The steady support it received from the nobility and gentry of the county, especially from the noble house of Stuart, through the advocacy of Colonel the Hon. H. W. Stuart, D.L.; has ensured the promotion and prosperity of a line the want of which has been long felt through the County of Waterford. The Bill, as we have said, passed triumphantly; and it only received a few trifling amendments at the suggestion of Lord Redesdale, to the effect that the directory might be reduced from twelve to six; and the quorum from four to three.

Four Dublin roughs belonging to a faction called the Boltonians were on Thursday sentenced to two months imprisonment each for an attempted attack on another faction.

NATIONAL TESTIMONIAL TO MR. MAGUIRE, M.P.

On the completion of the Twentieth Year of his Parliamentary Services. A MEETING of some of Mr. Maguire's Constituents, convened by the Mayor's Circular and held at the Chamber of Commerce, Cork, on Thursday, the 15th February last...

Since the above Meeting was held over Four Thousand Pounds have been subscribed in various parts of Ireland: and subscriptions are now being organised in the chief cities of Ireland, as well as in England, Scotland, America, and Australia.

The following are Extracts from Letters received from Catholic Prelates in commendation of the project: (From the Cardinal Archbishop of Dublin) In my opinion a national debt of gratitude is due to Mr. Maguire for distinguished services...

(From the Archbishop of Cashel) Though, to their great credit it has been set on foot by his fellow-citizens in Cork, we may trust that Irishmen at home and abroad, will cordially join in this testimonial to their distinguished countryman...

(From the Bishop of Cork) A Member of Parliament is not a mere delegate to watch over the interests of a restricted locality. His higher functions are as one of the representatives of the nation, to promote the general weal of his country...

(From the Bishop of Cloyne) A National recognition, and a national regard are due to Mr. Maguire for his long and useful Parliamentary services. Ireland is not ungrateful. Other public men may be convinced that if, at a future time, they give to the benefit of their talents, their eloquence, their zeal, she will not forget her duty to them.

(From the Bishop of Ross) Any word of approval from me of the useful Parliamentary career of Mr. Maguire could not in the slightest degree add to the well-deserved compliment inaugurated to him so successfully in the City and in the County of Cork, and which cannot but find a hearty response throughout the length and breadth of Ireland...

(From the Bishop of Egham) It is not in Cork only, nor in every part of Ireland, but in every country where the Irish emigrant is to be found, that the public career of Mr. Maguire is admired, and his public services gratefully appreciated. For a quarter of a century he has been the model of an earnest, upright, and consistent politician in the Press, in Parliament, and throughout that long period he has exhibited a generous self-sacrifice, which must give to the present Testimonial the character of a debt rather of justice than of gratitude.

SOLOQUY OF SELF-DESTRUCTION.—To be, or not to be, that is the question; whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the stings and arrows of outrageous fortune, or to take arms against a sea of troubles, and by opposing, end them? To die—to sleep, no more;—and by a sleep, to say we end the heart-ache, and the thousand natural shocks that flesh is heir to,—'tis a consummation devoutly to be wished. To die—to sleep, to sleep,—perchance to dream;—ay, there's the rub; for in that sleep of death, what dreams may come, when we have shuffled off this mortal coil, must give us pause: There's the respect that makes the calamity of so long life. For who would bear the whips and scorns of time, the oppressor's wrong, the proud man's contumely, the pangs of despised love, the law's delay, the insolence of office, and the spurs that pain the marble of the unworthy makes when he himself might his quietus purchase with a bare bodkin? Who would fardels bear, to grunt and sweat under a weary life, but that the dread of something after death, that undiscover'd country from whose bourne no traveller returns,—puzzles the will, and makes us rather bear the ills we have than fly to others we know not of? Thus conscience does make cowards of us all; and thus the native hue of resolution, is sicklied o'er with pale cast of thought, and enterprises of great pitch and moment, with this regard, their currents turn awry, and lose the name of action.—Shakespeare.

plant are to society at large. But the attempt to endow women with masculine attributes and dignity is contrary to the plainest indications of nature itself. Woman's place in nature is recognised, and her functions, though different, are not less noble than man's. No prudent person would venture to join together what the natural laws have evidently separated widely. It is vain to endeavour to improve on nature's division of labour. Each sex has most important and necessary duties to discharge; neither can impress on the sphere of the other without impairing its own efficiency; and we rejoice that the House of Commons has rejected the first proposal of a scheme which would ultimately endow us with feminine doctors, lawyers, demagogues, soldiers, and politicians.

WEXFORD HUNT RACES.

These races came off at Adamstown on Thursday, and a finer day for such sports could not have been desired. The attendance, notwithstanding, was, as compared with the two former meetings, exceedingly scanty, although the grand stand was very well filled. The multitudes on foot, and scores of vehicles of former years, were not, however, there, and the stewards must have experienced a considerable falling off in the receipts. The racing was not particularly brilliant. For instance, the horses in the first race finished, it might be said, in separate fields, and, barring the Downstown Plate, the entries were very meagre. That race, however, was run by a field of twelve horses, and was admirably contested one, and contained two or three high-class animals, although a considerable way behind the merits of the cattle that competed at the successful meeting at Rathmore the other day. The accident of Mr. Rowe's not being in the race, was a great loss to the race, as otherwise his would have won the Hunt Cup with ease, and so excellent a horse, belonging to so enthusiastic a sportsman, ought to have himself; had he done so, that would have been the matter most to be lamented, but his absence in racing recently is very annoying; though we are sure it will not discourage nor dishearten so ardent a lover of field sports as Mr. Rowe. We will predict better luck for him next time. Lord Huntingdon gracefully discharged the duties of Judge, and Mr. D. V. Beatty and Mr. Malcolm, as usual, officiated as Starter and Clerk of the Course, respectively. The following were the events decided:—

FARMER'S RACE.—A purse of 40 sovs, out of which the second horse shall receive 5 sovs; for all horses, the bona fide property of farmers, racing on their respective farms in the county of Wexford, and having been in their possession at least one month previous to the day of running. About two and a half miles. Mr. Whitney's Hilltown (owner) 1 Mr. Williams' Lonslow Lass (owner) 2 Mr. J. Collier's Island Chief (Mr. P. Collier) 0 Mr. L. Galan's Eagle (Malone) 0 Mr. Downes's Bryn O'Lyinn (Mr. Cummerford) 0

A good start was effected, and the lot kept abreast for the first two hundred yards. Passing the stand, the horses were in a line, having the race in attendance, with Clonow Lass alone up, third. After clearing the first fence beyond the last named mare took the lead, and was still in command when passing the stand the second time. Kiltown b g second, Bryn O'Lyinn third, Eagle fourth, Island Chief bringing up the rear. Going down into the dip Hilltown took his original position of leader, was never afterwards headed, and won easily, Clonow Lass being second and the others not placed.

THE WEXFORD HUNT CUP.

Values about 40 sovs. For all horses the bona fide property of the members of the Wexford Hunt, Curraghmore, Kilkenny, Carlow and Island Hunt, or regular subscribers of the Wicklow Harriers, or of officers in the army and navy who have regularly hunted with any of the above named packs during the past season. Mr. West's Harmony (owner) 1 Mr. Jeffere's Tipple (owner) 2 Mr. Nunn's Simon (owner) 0 Mr. Rowe's Quicksilver (owner) 0 Mr. Maher's Fairy (Mr. Comerford) 0 Mr. Quicksilver's horse was the favourite. Harmony being next in demand. Fairy got the start, but before coming to the first fence Quicksilver took the command, and led the field at a rattling pace. Going down the hill Harmony got up and showed slightly in advance, until in the dip, where Quicksilver, whom Mr. Rowe was holding hard, resumed the lead, but was again deprived of it by Harmony before reaching the stand, Tipple being third, Simon fourth, and Fairy out of the race. Mr. Rowe was using his utmost exertions to restrain the impetuosity of his horse, but would not be deterred, and again took the first place. Harmony, although three quarters of a mile had still to be accomplished, as if the race was over, so considerable was Quicksilver's lead, and so full of running was the horse. The race, however, is not always to the swift, and after clearing a fence in the hollow, Mr. Rowe was utterly exhausted by his efforts to restrain the horse that he could hold on no longer, and slipping off, he fell breathlessly to the ground. Dr. Madden happened, fortunately, to be close by, and he gave the direction to the first place to Mr. Rowe, who after a short rest at the house of Mr. Downes, completely recovered. In the meantime the race proceeded, Harmony winning, with Tipple, who finished with great gameness, a good second, and Simon walking in third.

THE DOWNSTOWN PLATE.

An open handicap of 50 sovs, added to an optional sweepstake of 5 sovs each; to be handicapped by the stewards or those whom they may appoint. About three miles. Mr. P. Maher's Aurora (Donny) 1 Mr. Palmerston's Aurora (Meany) 2 Mr. J. Furlong's Master McGrath (M. Kenny) 3 Also ran: Palmerston, Brian O'Lyinn, Maud, Lough Cullin, Huntsman, Wren, Kilkenny Fox, Gay Lad, and Attractions. This was an admirably contested race, but from a variation in the colors of some of the riders from those given in the card it is impossible to describe it. The most prominent riders during the contest were Lough Cullin, McGrath, Kilkenny Fox, and Dunmore. The latter was always well up, and about half a mile from home he took the lead, and was never afterwards headed, although sorely pressed by Aurora and Master McGrath, who finished second and third respectively.

WELTER STAKES.

A sweepstake of 20 sovs with 30 sovs added by the stewards, for horses the bona fide property of members of the Wexford, Curraghmore, Kilkenny, Carlow, and the Island Hunts, or regular subscribers to the Wicklow Harriers, having been in their possession one month previous to the day of running; or officers of the Army and Navy who have regularly hunted with the above-named packs this season. Mr. Jeffere's Tipple (owner) 1 Mr. M. A. Maher's Fairy (owner) 2 Fairy went away with the lead, closely followed by Tipple. After one or two changes of the lead, Fairy came down at the fence, Mr. Maher remounted and went in hot pursuit of Tipple, but coming again to grief he abandoned the hopeless contest, and Tipple came in at his ease. A consolation race, won by Aurora, followed, and brought the sports to a close.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

(From the Daily Express.)

All who object to social as well as political revolution will rejoice at the rejection of Mr. Jacob Bright's Woman's Franchise Bill, and their ranks will be swelled by almost all the members of a sex whose "degraded condition" a number of doctrinaires are anxious to ameliorate. That female should crowd to the polling-booths was but the first step to the attainment of the consummation for which Mr. Bright's following devoutly wish; but the House of Commons truly represented the sense of the country in refusing to lend its countenance to an unnatural and mischievous agitation. Those who clamour for woman's rights regard the franchise but as one of many privileges from which, by the present laws of society, the fair sex is excluded. They maintain that all existing distinctions between man and woman, as far as business avocations are concerned, should be broken down. A lady should be allowed to cut off a baby's leg, says one, and indeed, how could a more considerate operator be found than a mother. Nay, more, it is well known that women of all grades, to some extent, admire the military, and yet they are not allowed to enlist, and are ineligible for Woolwich, though, as a writer in the Fortnightly holds, "it may be surmised that the profession of arms will be rather a favourite with them than otherwise." The mind of this writer, probably, is of a practical rather than sentimental turn, but, for our part, we could scarcely fall in with a Colonel of Hussars, or a bombardier of Artillery in petticoats, and still less in other garments not usually worn by the sex. It is strange when we peruse the dreamings of those woman-righters how we find ourselves face to face with our pre-conceived notions and the traditions of mankind. We have been wont to conceive that however our family friend may in our days of processional and military pomp, and in our days of adversity and suffering call forth all their sympathies and attention, as Scott says—but to our horror we are informed that, according to "the natural instincts of the female sex," it will prefer the science of destruction to the art of healing. We are surprised to find a peace-at-any-price man like Mr. Bright advocating the granting of the suffrage to such dangerous constituents. Seldom is it that a change of vote has been better justified than Mr. Downes's on Wednesday night. Two years ago the Attorney General approved of the Bill, because he thought that thereby he would find favour in the ladies' eyes; but great was his surprise to hear himself rebuked that very evening by a lady for becoming the champion of the strong-minded woman's cause, from whom and their agitation the majority of women stand aloof.

"When pain and anguish wring the brow, A ministering angel thou."

And, indeed, the promoters of the Bill appear to know as little of the feelings of the mass of the female population as they care for the plain teachings of nature and the conventionalities and proprieties of ordinary social life. They in no sense represent, as Messrs. Morgan and Bourverie proved, the feelings of English, and still less of Irish women, few of whom signed their petitions, and the great bulk of whom, content with the condition being imposed on them by Providence, find their happiness and pride in the family, and willingly resign the honours and public duties of political life to their male relations. They know that they would lose by taking part in many pursuits far more than they could gain. Their personal influence would perish if they took part in public discussions. Their power round the hearthstone would cease if they engaged in contests of the forum. All those activities which adorn social intercourse and that habit of tender diffidence to the feelings of the fair, which is a remarkable element in a dance. Medical students forget the manners of gentlemen when a lady forgets her sense of propriety by entering the dissecting room in their presence; and artisans would lose their reverence for the condition being imposed on them by Providence, find their happiness and pride in the family, and willingly resign the honours and public duties of political life to their male relations.
