M. de Lesspès has left Paris for the Suez Canal, and it is his intention to proceed to Calcutta this winter and explore India.

An attempt was made to burn Judge Keogh in effigy during the rejoicings at Killinst in honor of Mr. Gascoyne coming of age, but it was frustrated by force.

The Grand Council of Geneva has just voted a legislative decree which expels the Brothers of the Christian Schools and suppresses the similar establishments of the Sisters of Mercy.

The appeal of the Rev Mr Denison, curate of East Brent, Somerset, whose licence was revoked by the Bishop of Bath and Wells, at Lambeth Palace, on Tuesday. The hearing was adjourned till July 17th.

The "Patriot" states that the sentence passed upon Henri Rochefort has been commuted into perpetual banishment, and that Victor Hugo has been instrumental in obtaining this act of grace from the President of the Republic.

Alderman M'Sweeney's motion, condemnatory of Judge Keogh's judgment, was passed at a meeting of the Dublin Corporation on Tuesday by a vote of twenty-six to four, and its terms embodied a petition to be presented to Parliament.

The "Independence Belge" infers from the comments of the "Provincial Correspondence" which is considered, both in Germany and abroad, an official organ of the Government and faithful interpreter of the policy and purposes of Prince Bismarck, that Prince Bismarck has in store even bigger bolts against the Church of Rome than the late law against the Jesuits.

Forty candidates passed at the same time. The remaining seventeen have gone to Aldershot.

At the Limerick Grand Jury on Tuesday the foreman refused to receive a resolution proposed by Mr DeMease, and seconded by the Hon Mr Messy, calling on the Government to "vindicate freedom of speech and the dignity of the judicial bench, by restraining the illegal, reckless, and audacious manner in which Mr Justice Keogh has been denounced."

The meeting was addressed by the chairman, the Revs Dr Hannay, Henry Henderson, Hugh Hanna, E Maguire, E J Smyth, and others. The hall will accommodate six hundred people, and cost seven hundred pounds.

Mr Cardwell has defined the exact position of the Duke of Cambridge. He calls his Royal Highness Chief of the Staff, and in the House of Commons has declared that the duties were now performed for the first time for eighty years. Is this, the "Court Journal" asks, quite as intelligible to the military mind as it seems to be to the official, or is it pure "Cardwellism"?

The work of refortifying the towns and citadels wrested from the French during the late war is rapidly proceeding. A correspondent of a London contemporary says:—"It will soon be well nigh out of the range of possibilities that France should madly rush into the renewal of the war for the recovery of her lost provinces."

The "Merrill Post" states in reference to a question put in the House of Commons, on the exclusion of the name of the Mayor of Drogheda from the commission for the approaching assizes for that town, that the omission was made without the knowledge of either the Lord Lieutenant or the Lord Chancellor of Ireland.

The annual benediction of the sea at Ostend was gone through this year with unusual pomp, and is said to have been imposingly pompous by a spectator from the Hotel Mermaid, who describes the procession of young cherubs, costumed peasants, and bands of music. An altar was erected on the beach near the Casino, whence the curate, after a short address, blessed the ocean by which Ostend derives its prosperity. A salvo was also fired.

At the inquest on the remains of the liberated Fenian prisoner, Martin Hanley Carey, who committed suicide, by drowning, on Sunday morning, which was held on Monday in Dublin, the solicitor for the relatives of the deceased proposed to give evidence that the treatment the deceased received when undergoing penal servitude and at the Phoenix Asylum were the causes of insanity, which made him commit the rash act. The enquiry was adjourned.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS. The summary of the argument relied upon by the British Government in resisting the claims made by the United States, which has been laid before the Tribunal of Arbitration, has been issued. It consists, in fact, of a condensation into the limits of 39 folio pages of the arguments contained in the British Case and Counter Case, or, more properly, of the general substance, and results of those arguments and evidence with some additional remarks made necessary by the new matter contained in the American Counter Case, or arising out of the evidence put in by the United States. In the commencement the British Government remarks that the Tribunal is to determine as to each vessel separately whether Great Britain has failed in any of the duties set forth in the "rules" laid down in the treaty, and that the failure of duty not concerning any one of these ships can in any case be the subject of pecuniary award; and as the Florida, Alabama, Georgia, and Shenandoah were the only vessels respecting which any claim had been previously made, it is urged that no claim can now be made under the treaty with regard to the acts of any other vessel.

With respect to several of these ships, no failure of duty on the part of Great Britain has been alleged, yet claims are made for losses occasioned by their acts. The summary then contains a strong argument, extending over several pages, to show that Great Britain did not fail in her duty with respect to any of the ships which attacked the American merchant ships, and after arguing the legal points the facts concerning each of the four vessels are carefully set forth, and the arguments are then summed up. The annexes to the document occupy more than 20 pages.

THE ROYAL IRISH CONSTABULARY. The condition of the Royal Irish Constabulary is forming a subject for careful and anxious inquiry by all parties; and strange are the revelations that are brought to light. We all are proud of the Force, and look upon it as, perhaps, the finest body of men in the British Isles; we know that its loyalty has stood so many sieges that the Government of the day were forced by public opinion to confer the title of Royal upon it. We know that it is ever-ready in the performance of its duties, and that the men turn out like perfect soldiers. But what we did not know were some of the grievances under which they suffered. We did not know, for instance, that the men were so badly paid; that they had but few chances of promotion; that their pension was difficult to acquire, wretched as it is; or that they were unable to obtain it unless totally unfit for service. But now the public know all, and the authorities begin to realise the fact also, for they see large gaps in the ranks which they find it impossible to fill, and they have to witness the departure of many to America, whose places will remain void, simply because recruits cannot be obtained. In this age of strikes and high wages, the Government has been obliged to raise the scale of prices in all its departments, and the Royal Irish Constabulary cannot be left out of the list. The rate of pay must be increased as soon as possible; but there are two other grievances which require at least equal attention. The first is promotion. A man of the constabulary has no chance of becoming a sub-inspector; he has no opportunity of raising himself superior to what the army calls non-commissioned officers. He may have a brother in the Line who may have, by

THE ROYAL AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY SHOW-MEETING OF THE CORPORATION.

A special meeting of the Corporation of Waterford was held on Tuesday in the Council Chamber, Town Hall, to subscribe to the Royal Agricultural Society's expense fund.

The Right Worshipful the Mayor (Dr Scott) presided at the chair. Present: Aldermen Cooke, Commins, Purcell, Dr J. Mackey, Mr. J. Purcell, Mr. J. M'Enery, T. F. Purcell, Mr. J. H. Galloway, Dr. G. I. Purcell, Mr. J. Cox, and T. Reilly.

The Town Clerk having read the notice convening the meeting, said that he had returned from the Royal Agricultural Show when it was held at Waterford.

He said that £50 which we contributed to the show, had been returned to the Corporation.

Mr. Purcell said he would ask the Council to contribute £50 to the fund of the Royal Agricultural Society. He thought they should at least contribute £50.

Mr. Kelly (High Sheriff of the City) said he thought they should give more than £50, considering the advantages which the show would bring to the city and the county.

He did not intend to make a speech on the occasion, but he would simply move that the Council, as I understand, give £100 towards defraying the expenses of having the Royal Society's Show held in Waterford.

He thought that £100 was the best they could give, as the price of labour and every kind of material had largely increased since the last show was held, and they should not expect that the advantages of having the show in their city and county would be so great as in former years.

ALDERMAN MACKEY.—The question now is whether we will give £100 or £150. There can be no harm in sending a deputation to the Harbour Commissioners.

Mr. Purcell—I speak under correction, but I think the application should come from another meeting of the general body of the citizens.

The resolution of Mr. Kelly to subscribe from the funds of the Corporation £100 towards having the show of the Royal Agricultural Society held in Waterford in 1873 was then put, and passed unanimously.

A letter was read asking the Corporation to sign a memorial, praying for the removal of Judge Fogh from the Irish bench.

The High Sheriff said he could have nothing to do with any discussion which might arise on that matter, and left the room. His example was followed by a large number of members, and the quorum being found, the council adjourned.

The usual weekly meeting of the guardians of the above union was held on Wednesday last in the board-room.

Captain Power, D.V.C., and subsequently Sir R. J. PAUL, Bart., in the chair.

Also present—Major O'Gorman, Congreve-Rogers, Mr. O'Shea, M. Koukeli, Mr. Dudley, Ald. Jacob, J. H. Jones, D.L.; G. Meade, T. Duggan, M. Corcoran, T. Hurler, Dr. J. Mackey, L. A. Ryan, Wm. Kelly, J. Clamptt.

The admission and out-door relief cases occupied the board up to half-past one o'clock.

Dr. Gillen, medical officer of the Kilmacdonagh dispensary district, reported that between the 1st of February and the 3rd of July last, he successfully vaccinated 123 persons, all of them residing in Kilmacdonagh dispensary district.

The commissioners forwarded a circular letter furnishing extracts from the Jurists' Amendment Act (Ireland) which received the Royal assent on the 27th of June.

The preparation of the general list of jurors remaining unaltered, and the 1st of August is the date when the general list of jurors is to be prepared and delivered.

Section four provides that a counting house, shop, office or place of business, owned or rented by a juror shall be regarded as a place of business.

The commissioners understand that this provision only applies to the counties of the cities of Dublin, Waterford, Limerick, Cork, and Kilkenny, to the counties of the towns of Galway, Drogheda, and Carrickfergus, and the boroughs of Belfast and Londonderry.

The following minutes were read:—The committee met on the 5th July; Present—Messrs J. H. Jones (chairman), J. F. Kelly, P. Ryan, S. Frerney, P. Sheehan, N. O'Neill, and the Rev. W. G. Burroughs.

Proposed by Mr. O'Neill, and seconded by Mr. F. Kelly, that Mrs. Mary Magrath, of Mullinavally, be appointed as midwife to the Mullinavally portion of the district, at the electoral division, at a salary of £6 per annum.

Dr. Keane requested a month's leave of absence on the ground of ill health, and produced a medical certificate. The leave of absence was unanimously granted.

Dr. Parkes, of Kilmacdonagh, was appointed to act as locum tenens for one month for Dr. Keane, to date from Monday next, July 8, Dr. Keane to pay half the extra salary, which this committee recommends to be paid at £3 3s per week.—J. H. Jones, chairman.

After some discussion the report of the committee was adopted, and the committee were ordered to consider whether the rent for the wash shed might be discontinued.

The committee having charge of this question met this day.—Dr. Connel in the chair, with Messrs F. Kelly and Mr. O'Neill present.

Report of committee of 23rd of May read also a letter from the Commissioners, dated 3rd inst, having been duly considered, your committee are of opinion that the building of an addition, as recommended by the former committee for the accommodation of female idiots, ought to be adopted, and plans and specifications be prepared for carrying out same.

MASTER'S REPORT.

The master reported that he received £23 7s 3d for pigs. They cost on the 1st of April £7 10s, and after the cost of their food there was a profit of £9 9s. Manure cost £12 17s 6d.

The master advised that they should advertise for 200 tons of coals as the price would greatly increase in winter.

Major O'Gorman. Coal is now 16s a ton at the pits mouth. It is 2s a ton here now, and I have been informed by a gentleman of experience that it will be 40s a ton at Christmas.

Mr. Ryan: What coal do you consume now? Mr. O'Gorman: About five tons a week. Mr. Clamptt: And you can take it out of the yard.

Mr. Ryan: They would not give 200 tons out of the yard. Mr. Clamptt: Let the contractor deliver from where he likes.

It was ordered then to advertise for 200 tons of coals.

The board then adjourned.

PANNING INSTITUTE.

The monthly general meeting of the governors of the Panning Institute, Waterford, was held on Tuesday last, in the board-room.

Also present—Aldermen, Hon. Secy. Very Rev. Dr. Flynn, V.G.; Rev. Dr. Ryan, J. Fisher, R. Walsh, Ald. Commins, Captain Brennan, E. J. Barron, M. Casey, T. F. Kelly, High Sheriff; J. Leamy, J. A. Tobin, J. Budd, Archdeacon Ryland, R. Doherty, S. Harris, J. O'Hara, G. Walpole, T. Hickey, W. Kelly, J. Clamptt, T. S. Harvey, W. Galloway, Rev. P. Keat, J. H. Jones, H. R. Sargent, Ald. Reid, M. Slaney, H. Denny, Dr. Connel, Counsellor Walsh.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The testimonials for the office of hall porter were then read. The following are the names of candidates—Patrick O'Connell, pensioner, R.I.C.; Michael Phelan, pensioner, R.I.C.; Edward Drought, pensioner, R.I.C.; Alexander McCook, pensioner, R.I.C.; John Brew, pensioner; James Power, schoolmaster; John M. Parly, pensioner.

Only four of the above appeared, viz—P. O'Connell, M. Phelan, Alexander McCook, and James Power. They were called on the motion of Mr. Fisher, and were requested to retire whilst other business was being transacted.

A ballot was then taken on the election of a hall porter, the candidates having previously entered the room, and their several testimonials having been read.

On a scrutiny the numbers were as follows:—Forty-two members balloted, viz—21 for McCook, 19 for O'Connell, and two for Phelan. As McCook had not a majority of the whole house, a second ballot was taken, when there appeared for McCook, 13; for Phelan, 4; and one blank.

McCook was therefore declared elected, and the board adjourned.

ABOUT MILKING.—No department of agriculture requires more precision than the management of the dairy, of which milking is an important part.

Dairy products are the result of direct chemical transformations, or rather chemical action, from the time the cow takes the food until the finished products of milk result.

In none of the processes relating to the dairy should more care be used than in the care and manipulation of the cows themselves. The Scottish Farmer, in relation to this subject, says:—The manager of a large dairy in Scotland gives the following as general orders for all hands employed about his stock:—1. Every cow must be in her stall at the appointed time of milking.

2. Milkers are expected to be on hand at 6.45 a.m. and 5.45 p.m. Sundays excepted, when milking will begin at 6.15 a.m. and 5.15 p.m.

3. Every milker will have charge of a definite number of stalls, and will be held responsible for the thorough milking of every cow occupying them.

NEW ROSS.

NEW ROSS BOARD OF GUARDIANS.—SATURDAY. (From our own Reporter.)

E. A. BRYNE, Esq., I.P., in the chair. O. H. guardians present—Messrs. J. Walsh, J. Hunt, L. Moran, N. Lumsden, W. Brennan, J.P.; D. Maddock, N. Cooky, and B. Wallace. TREASURER'S ACCOUNT.

Received, £11 19s 3d; paid, £246 6s 11d; bal. due in favour, £223 6s 11d. QUI-PRO-TERO RELIEF.

The amount paid last week was £28 6s 9d. COMMISSIONERS' LETTER—ELECTION OF RELIEVING OFFICER.

No. 1.—Forwarding for the information of the guardians a copy of a communication which they have received from Mr. Hunt, poor law guardian, relative to the appointment of a relieving officer in the union on the 28th ult., and they request to be furnished with the observations of the guardians thereon.

"Whitechurch, Priesthuggard, New Ross, July 1, 1872. GENTLEMEN.—I respectfully beg to call your attention to certain proceedings of the New Ross Board of guardians, held on Friday, the 28th ult., relative to the appointment of a relieving officer for No. 2 district.

There were only two candidates, viz—Messrs. Wadden and Byrne. Mr. Wadden performed the duties pro tem for the last fortnight. He also previously filled the situation for the years 1868 and '69, to the satisfaction of the board.

Through an oversight, in consequence of having been occupied getting his books ruled by the chairman until one o'clock p.m., he quite forgot to put in his application at the time specified in the advertisement.

The board agreed immediately before the election to receive his application. In the act of handing it in one of Mr. Byrne's supporters raised the objection that it was not in time, knowing that Wadden would be returned by a large majority.

It was then proposed by Joseph Hunt, and seconded by Mr. Moran, that the election be adjourned for a fortnight. The chairman refused to put the resolution from the chair, although the majority of the board pressed him to entertain it.

He refused going so far as to entertain it, although he yielded to the position and ex-officio member of the board, Mr. Tyndal, offered to bear the expenses that might be incurred by the adjournment.

Gentlemen, I contend, on behalf of the majority of the board, that the chairman acted illegal in not putting the resolution from the chair. I have had eight years' experience as a member of the board, and during that time I have never known a chairman refuse putting a resolution or amendment from the chair.

Very soon after Mr. Byrne was proposed and seconded and declared duly elected by the minority of the board, as I can prove by sending you the signatures of the members that composed the majority, if required. I also beg to submit that, in consequence of the board day having been changed without a notice of motion or the sanction of the commissioners, the proceedings were illegal.

Hoping, gentlemen, you will excuse me for appealing to you in this matter, I have, &c. &c. "JOSEPH HUNT, P.L.G."

The chairman asked what answer would they send to the commissioners.

Mr. Hunt said that he had stated the facts in his letter, which could not be gainsayed by any member of the board.

The resolution was duly proposed and seconded, but the chairman refused to put it.

There was no precedent for his acting as he did. Let the board now express their opinion, and let the commissioners decide the question. He also proposed the following resolution:—

"Resolved—That, in reply to the commissioners' letter, No. 18775, and with reference to the election of a relieving officer for No. 2 district at the meeting of the board held on last Friday, the commissioners be requested to declare that election invalid, Friday not being the regular board day, and the board having been held on that day illegally and contrary to article 6 of the General Regulations in the order of 2nd June, 1844."

Mr. Maddock seconded the resolution.

Mr. Hunt contended that such could not be put without a notice of motion. If Byrne is not legally elected he did not wish to be appointed. Let the commissioners decide that Saturday being a holiday, the board was held on Friday.

The Athenaeum learns on the best authority that the Copyright Convention under negotiation with Germany is merely a consolidation of the different existing conventions; but it will, if concluded, have this advantage, that, being in the German Empire, it will include Bavaria, an other states now forming part of the Empire which have not hitherto become parties to a treaty of copyright with this country.

THE POET'S CORNER.

EQUINOCTIAL. The sun of life has crossed the line; The summer shine of lengthened light Faded and failed, till where I stand 'Tis equal day and equal night.

WILD FLOWERS. Pale apple blossoms and red flowers, Anemones and tulips tall, Which light with fluting torch the showers Of slim green leaves which round them fall.

GOLDEN GLEANINGS. Mirth is a health-invigorator, a life-preserver—a universal panacea for indigestion and hypochondria. It dispenses our gravity without shaking up the fibres of the body.

Coleridge, in his "Science of Method," has said that a very slight knowledge of music will enable any man to detect discords among the harmonies of Haydn and Mozart; and that Bentley found more bad grammar in "Paradise Lost" than would bring any boy a whipping in a public school; but that to know why the rior note is introduced into the major key, or the minor note is left to seek its own verb, or the quites an intimate acquaintance with a scale of method at the top of which sits the author, and at the bottom of which sits the critic. This is the spirit of reverence we all need when we listen for the voice of God in our life and times.

ANOTHER VIEW OF TOBACCO.—Tobacco has other evils than its cost and its filthiness, which are the usual objections made to it by those who are its least evils. While we have no doubt it may have virtues, like other poisons, and in some diseases, conditions of the human system it may possibly give transient relief, yet for any person in health to violate his natural instincts, and outrage his pure tastes, as to form the habit of using it in the ordinary way, we fully believe to be a wicked abuse of the temple of the human body, which abuse far oftener than we know, leaks through the saturated d body, and stains the soul. Believing this, it pains especially, to see a minister, a teacher of youth in common school, or Sunday-school, or any one pretending to teach morality, or religion or anything else worthy to be taught, sucking tobacco-smoke through a pipe, or pipe, or rolling a quid as a sweet morsel, or using his tongue. It is a shame that a habit so gross and injurious should be recommended in this way to the youth of the land by the habits of those to whom they look up with confidence, and like whom they aspire to be.

THE NEWSPAPER AS AN EDUCATOR.—Show us an intelligent family of boys and girls, and we will show you a family where newspapers and periodicals are plentiful. Nobody who has been without the silent private tutors can have your never thought of good or evil. Topics of discussion which they suggest at the breakfast table; the most important public measure so familiarly acquainted; great philanthropic questions of the day, to which unconsciously their attention is awakened, and the general spirit of intelligence which is evoked by these quiet visitors? Anything that makes the haunts of pleasure, and the thousand and one regards, when we consider its influence on the mind of the young, as a great moral and social blessing.—Emerson.

Mr Justice Keogh arrived in Longford on Tuesday, and opened the assizes. Elaborate measures were taken to ensure his safety, and he was escorted by an immense escort of military and police, but though the town was crowded, no demonstration was attempted. The Grand Jury of the county passed a resolution expressing disapprobation of the gross personal abuse to which the judge has been subjected, and calling on the Government to take measures to vindicate the dignity and independence of the judicial bench, and uphold the administration of justice.

Many a man goes on sinning and sinning against the laws of his own body, and because he sins he seems to be deferred, he thinks he is not sinning—especially if he does not come under the rebuke of society—lay and public sentiment, or under the rebuke of his fellows; and by-and-by the penalties begin to execute themselves. And then it is too late for him to avert the evil. Many a man finds out at thirty-five years of age that he is an old man; that his marrow has been sucked up; that the generating power of his nervous system has been burned out or rotted out; and he thinks he will reform, and means to reform, but it is too late. And then he begins in his premature and crippled state, to marvel in the after-disappointments of life, at the mysteries of Providence, and to wonder why some men have such easy lives, and he has such a hard one; why some men have such privilege and opportunity, and he is so hedged in and crippled; why some men are so free from sufferings, and he suffers so much. It is simply a case in which he has gone on violating natural laws, the nature of which was to defer their penalties, but which never took their eyes off from him, but which he followed him, and seized him at the proper time, and executed their commission in full. And the man that violates the laws of Nature in the structure of his own body or mind, may be perfectly certain that those laws will inflict their penalties on him both here and hereafter.

DEVELOPMENT IN NATURE AND MAN—I should like to see any man's biography with corrections and emendations by his ghost. We don't know each other's secrets quite so well as we flatter ourselves we do. We don't always know our own secrets as well as we might. You have seen a tree with different grafts upon it, an apple or a pear tree we will say. In the late summer months the fruit on one bough will ripen. I remember just such a tree, and the early ripening fruit was the Jargonnelle. By-and-by the fruit of another bough will begin to come into condition; the lovely St. Michael, as it is called, grew on the same stock as the Jargonnelle in the tree I am thinking of; and then, as the fruit of the latter is gathered, another will say the Winter Nellis, has its turn, and so, out of the same joints have come in succession fruits of the most varied aspects and flavours. It is the same thing with ourselves, but it takes us a long while to find it out. The various inherited instincts ripen in succession. You may be nine-tenths paternal at one period of your life, and nine-tenths maternal at another. All at once the traits of some immediate ancestor may come to maturity unexpectedly on one of the branches of your character, just as your features at different periods of your life bear different resemblances to your nearer or more remote relatives. From "The Poet at the Breakfast Table," in the Atlantic Monthly.

The claimant and his friends have extended their stumping tour to the metropolis, and have already secured the favourable verdict of a select assembly in the New Cut. A stratagem, suggested by the temperance orators, seems to have confirmed their triumph. The claimant produced "a dreadful example." After several speeches had been made in vindication of his claims, the chairman announced that a gentleman present desired to express his doubts. The person in question, who gave his name as "Daniel Wood," St Leonard's Road, Bromley, stepped in theatrical fashion to the verge of the platform; but no sooner had he done so than he was recognized, and several people in the crowd called out loud, "How about the lottery lists?" "When did you leave Blackwall?" Tufts of grass were dashed in the face of the claimant, and Mr Whalley, to the interference of the claimant and Mr Whalley, to obtain him a hearing, he was obliged to retire amid a storm of hisses and execrations. Of course the moral of the scene was that no one but a knave would doubt the identity of "Sir Roger."

HUSBAND AND WIFE.—I say to any married pair, from whom the romance of life has fled, and who are discontented in the slightest degree with their condition and relations, begin this work of reconciliation before you are a day older. Renew the old attentions of earlier days. Draw your hearts closer together. Talk the thing all over. Acknowledge your faults to one another, and determine that henceforth you will be all in all to each other; and my word for it, you will find in your relation the sweetest joy earth has for you. There is no other way for you to do. If you are unhappy at home you must be unhappy abroad. The man or woman who has settled down upon the conviction that he or she is attached for life to an uncongenial yoke-fellow, and that there is no way of escape, has lost life. There is no port too costly to be made which can restore to the setting upon their bosoms the missing pearl.—Timothy Titcomb in "Christian Age."

At the Limerick Assizes on Tuesday, Cornelius McCarthy was tried before Mr Justice Morris for complicity in the murder of Patrick Conway, a young farmer, at Cloulusk, in October last. Conway was killed in an affray arising out of a family feud, and the prisoner was stated to have been one of a large party who attacked the deceased before the eyes of his sister. The latter and some other witnesses positively swore that they saw the prisoner strike the deceased. Witnesses were produced for the defence to show that the prisoner was not engaged in the attack, but their testimony compared with that for the prosecution was rather meagre and inconclusive. The prisoner was convicted of manslaughter.

The subscription to the Nolan Defence Fund on Tuesday amounted to £6,278. Five men, who took part in the demonstration in Tralee, at which an effigy of Judge Keogh was burned, were arrested on Tuesday, and will be prosecuted at the next Petty Sessions. The Libral metropolitan journals express satisfaction at the course taken by the House of Lords with respect to the Ballot Bill. The "Times" thinks the conduct of the Lords reflected with singular felicity the opinion of the Government. The "Daily News" regrets that the Government are not able to announce a victory along the whole line, but thinks that, as the real, only substantial success remains with the Government, which has re-established once for all the vital principle, the purpose, the meaning of its measures. The "Telegraph" congratulates the House of Lords on the good sense displayed on Tuesday night in dealing with the prisoner amendment. By listening to sound advice, by opening their mouths to reason, and accepting the national will at once, the peers have saved themselves from painful consciences and great perils. The "Standard" considers it would have been more prudent for the moment, even if risk, and forced an appeal to the contrary upon the greatest political innovation of the present age, than to have purchased immunity from immediate attack by the surrender of some of the proudest privileges of an Englishman.

At the Nenagh assizes the two men, Palmer and Kirwan, charged with having committed a murderous outrage on two officials of the National Debt, were found guilty. The Catholic Bishops, at their recent meeting in Maynooth, have come to a resolution of a highly important character, one that indicates very clearly the difficulty, if not impossibility, of working the present scheme of primary education. The resolution referred to prohibits the Catholic clergy from accepting aid from the National Board to erect schools upon the existing terms. Edward Gibson, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, Dublin, with family and suite, have arrived at the Branch House, Tramore, for the season.

NATIONAL TESTIMONIAL TO MR. MAGUIRE, M.P.

On the completion of the Twentieth Year of his Parliamentary Service, the National Testimonial to Mr. Maguire, M.P., was presented to him at a meeting of some of his Constituents, convened by the Mayor, Cork, on Thursday, the 15th February last, it was presided over by WILLIAM SHAW, M.P., Seconded by JOHN NICHOLS, MURPHY, D.L., and unanimously resolved: "That for the greater part of a generation Mr. Maguire's time, talents, and energies, have been almost exclusively devoted to the public service, with a zeal that never flagged, a fidelity that never failed, and an ability that never failed to honour his country, and largely contributed to every legislative amelioration."

The following are Extracts from Letters received from Catholic Prelates in commendation of the project: (From the Cardinal Archbishop of Dublin). "In my opinion a national debt of gratitude is due to Mr. Maguire for distinguished services, rendered in and out of Parliament, to our Country and to our Church."

(From the Archbishop of Westminster). "I feel a great pleasure in uniting with the Bishops and faithful of Ireland in presenting to Mr. Maguire an expression of our gratitude, for his long and faithful services."

(From the Bishop of Cloyne). "A National recognition, and a national reward are due to Mr. Maguire for his long and useful Parliamentary services."

(From the Bishop of Down). "No man has behaved, during his long and useful Parliamentary career, with greater zeal and ability, with more disinterestedness and unflinching labour, or with greater personal independence and courage, than Mr. Maguire."

(From the Bishop of Elphin). "It is not in Cork only, nor in every part of Ireland, but in every country where the Irish language is spoken, that the public career of Mr. Maguire, is held in the highest and most grateful appreciation. For a quarter of a century he has been the model of an earnest, upright, and consistent politician, in the Press as well as in Parliament; and throughout that long period he has exhibited a generous self-sacrifice, which must give to the present Testimonial the character of a debt rather of affection than of gratitude."

LAWES' CELEBRATED MANURES. LAWES' BONE SUPERPHOSPHATE, OR PATENT TURNIP MANURE, LAWES' SUPERPHOSPHATE OF LIME, LAWES' SPECIAL MANURES, FOR POTATO, MANGOLD, AND CORN CROPS. THIRTY SECOND EDITION.

"Mr LAWES' MANURE has an invariable and beneficial effect on all soils, and may be therefore intermixed with the soil with much facility. I may add that, in examining with a lens the particles of Bones, present in this Manure, I find the particles of Bones, which must augment its value. Its character as an active and certain fertilizer for a soil in which Turnips or other Green Crops are to be grown is well established, that it is quite unnecessary for me to say anything on such a subject."—Extracted from Professor Atkinson's Report for 1872. "This is an extremely valuable Manure, carefully manufactured, and in admirable condition for applying to the soil. It is very rich in soluble Phosphates, and contains fair proportions of Ammonia and Bone Phosphate of Lime. It has repeatedly reported in the most favorable terms prepared by the composition of the Artificial Manures used by Mr. Lawes, that I need only say of the sample now described, that it is everything which a Superphosphate ought to be."—Extract from Professor Cameron's Report for 1872.
