WATERFORD MAIL

By Counsellor Hazard—Saw no person sitting before him...

Richard Cooke, Esq., produced the Petty Sessions book; is Sergeant and Mayor's Clerk; was present at the Prosecution on the 21st of June.

Counsellor Hatchell in a powerful speech, which excited much merriment, addressed the jury for the defendant, and after a charge from the learned Judge retired for about an hour, when they brought in a verdict of £10 damages with 6d costs.

While the jury were in deliberation on the last case the following were sworn to try the case of Peet v. Pope and Williams, viz:—

John Bardeen, Edward Kehoe, Thomas Murphy, James Glanville, John Irwin, Henry Gallwey, John Scallan, John Sperry, Edward Crooke, Owen Carroll, Benjamin Moore, and Henry Pope.

Counsellor Harris opened the pleadings, which he stated to be an action for trespass, damages, &c., and he stated his nomination, as the plaintiff's object was only to assert his right.

Mr. Scott, Q. C. stated the case, and animadverted on the defendants seeking to assert their rights, by means so unadvisable. In 1817 a lease of the premises on which the case was made to Richard Pope, the father of one and father in law of another of the Defendants at the yearly rent of £100 per annum, there were other premises in the rene held by Mr. Peet which were not devised by this lease, and there was a special covenant in the lease that no window was to be broken out into the part reserved by Mr. Peet.

Mr. Peet made a lease of these reserved premises to 1819 Mr. Peet, which he held for some years. Mr. Richard Pope applied to Mr. Scroder for leave to break out a window, which was granted him on his written promise to Mr. Peet, who was present, and who was sworn to get the defendant to stop up the window, and an assignment of the premises from Mr. Jacob Scroder, was built a wall to stop the light from entering, and it was for some time broken down the wall, and this was the trespass complained of.

Edward Peaderast—knew Thomas Morris, he is a deap; knows his hand writing, which he identified as a witness to the lease.

Michael Downey, proved the hand writing of Mr. R. Pope and Mr. Josiah Williams to the lease.

George Lyle, Esq., proved his own handwriting as a subscribing witness to the deed, assigning the premises to Mr. Scroder to Mr. Peet.

Objection was here taken that the map attached to the lease should have a ten shilling stamp, which was reserved.

John Wm. Strangman, Esq., proved that the late Nathan Peet, who died in 1818, was son to Mr. Edward Peet, who was the original leasee.

John Flanagan sworn—Is a mason; was employed on the 4th March, 1839 to build a 4 inch wall at the rear of Mr. Peet's office to stop the window; saw it on the 17th of April; saw a brick bat was used out opposite the window; saw it afterwards, when the wall was thrown down opposite the window, built second wall, and in two days after found half the window exposed; built a third wall, which was principally timber, a panel of timber being laid opposite the window, with a treble dead plank, it was finished; the panel could be seen through with a red hot poker, and the panel and bed were destroyed through with a red hot poker, and the panel pushed out opposite the hole; did not see it for two months after, when it was all knocked down; calculated the whole cost at two pounds ten shillings.

Richard Walsh sworn—Is a carpenter, made the screen which was placed about 3 inches from the window.

Richard Reville—Proved he is in the employment of Mr. Peet; that he lodged in a house where he had a view of the office window, and on the 17th of April looked out of his window in consequence of what he (witness) had heard and seen on the next day, when he saw a man with a hammer in his hand, and on the next morning he saw all protruded.

Cross-examined by Counsellor Hatchell—He saw the noise heard the man, he means he saw the man and heard the noise; the man had a candle in his hand; could not tell who he was; it was between 9 and 10 o'clock at night.

William M. Ardagh, Esq., sworn—Knows the defendant; has been often in his office; Mr. Pope's desk is opposite the window alluded to; saw the office while the window or screen was up once; asked Mr. Pope who was the hammer man, and he said it was a man in all nature at his neighbours and that he either had or would later throw down.

Mr. Hatchell, Q. C. addressed the jury for the defendants, when they retired and after a considerable absence brought for the plaintiff 40s damages, and the learned Judge left the bench long before the jury brought in the verdict and desired the sheriff and Registrar to take the verdict.—Adjourned at 6 o'clock to half past 9 o'clock the next morning.

COUNTY COURT—TUESDAY. John Whelan was indicted for a rape on Alice Roe, acquitted.

Walter Murphy indicted for setting fire to his brother's house at Parkwood, was found guilty and sentenced to 12 months imprisonment, each alternate month to be at hard labour.

CITY COURT—THURSDAY. Shortly after 10 o'clock Baron Richards took his seat on the Bench, and the long panel of the petty jury having been called on a fine of £5 each, the following jury was sworn, viz:—

Michael Burke, Robert Browne, John Butler, Peter Corish, John Campion, Patrick Dalton, Patrick Daniel, Michael Downey, John Flanagan, Richard Free, Michael Gault, and Thomas M. Galway.

BUSINESS OF PARLIAMENT.

Nothing of any importance occurred in the House of Lords on Friday. Elsewhere it will be seen that Mr. Lydell's motion in the Commons on Thursday night with respect to Sir John Newport's pension was carried by a majority of 28 against ministers, the numbers being for that motion 240, for Lord Morpeth's amendment 212.

On Friday in the Commons after some miscellaneous business the remaining clauses of the Municipal Corporations (Ireland) Bill were discussed in Committee and the House having resumed, the report was ordered to be brought up on Monday. After a debate of some length on the Navy Estimates the House Adjourned until Monday.

Thomas Prendergast, charged with the murder of a man named Harry, of Knockgriffin, county Tipperary, so far back as September 1833, arrived in this city in custody, on Sunday, by the Osprey steamer from Bristol, and was lodged in the City Jail till Monday, when he was forwarded to Clonmel, to abide his trial.

WEXFORD SPRING ASSIZES—THURSDAY, FEB. 27. The hon. Baron Richards took his seat in the Crown Court, shortly after 10 o'clock; the following gentlemen of the Grand Jury having been sworn, viz:—

The Hon. Newton Fallows, Foreman. James Power, M. P., John H. Talbot, M. P., H. K. G. Morgan, Thomas Boyse, Anthony Cliffe, W. Hore, Harperton, Henry Lambert, Richard Donovan, John G. Richards, Chas. Tottenham, jun., W. M. Glascock, James Boyd, John Rowe, William Bolton, John E. Redmond, Edward R. Cookman, Christopher G. Harvey, Robert Owen, Jacob W. Goff, John Howlin, Francis Leigh, J. W. Wallace, Esqrs., his Lordship briefly addressed them, and expressed his gratification at the extreme lightness of the calendar, and then proceeded to read the first presentment. In the case of the Dispensary at Ballinacorney, the Grand Jury refused to pass any presentment on the grounds of its utility. Certain sums claimed by the owners of salmon weirs in the river Barrow, which were maliciously destroyed were finally granted.

A petty jury being sworn, Joseph Foley, a mariner, was placed at the bar charged with the manslaughter of Henry Wallis in the river of Waterford, in July last.

The prisoner and deceased belonged to the same vessel; in evidence it appeared that the squabble, which ensued in the boat, was brought about by the deceased, whose conduct towards the prisoner was of the most violent nature.

Guilty, but strongly recommended to mercy. To be imprisoned twelve months, from the date of committal and kept to hard labour.

Several Barrow fishermen placed at the bar for riot, having submitted, were discharged.

Mr. Scott, Q. C., applied to his lordship to postpone the trial of Parlong, Doyle, and Dillon for the murder of the late Mr. Hayes until next assizes, just evidence on the bench, was brought about by his knowledge. The case was ordered to stand over till the following morning, when the prisoners were admitted to bail.

CROWN COURT—SECOND DAY. Several prisoners were discharged by proclamation. John Dunne pleaded guilty to stealing a letter containing Bank Post Bills directed from the Board of Ordnance to Andrew Hill, of the Ordnance Survey Department, and was imprisoned eight months, from committal.

William and Thomas Bennett, for assault on James Murphy. Three months' imprisonment and hard labour. This terminated the criminal business.

RECORD COURT—THURSDAY. Judge Crampton was occupied most part of the day in appeal of no interest. John Lynch v. the Rev. Myles Moran. This was an action of ejectment to recover 20 acres of the lands of Clonmore. Verdict for the defendant, 6d damages and 6d costs. The next case, David Jones v. R. W. Ryan, was an action under the statute to recover a penalty of over payment of a decree to the attorney of the plaintiff, the defendant in the action. The sum was 10s, and paid by the defendant to the bailiff who executed the decree. The judge was of opinion that the plaintiff's case was not maintainable; but that a payment of £1 10s having been made by the defendant, he thought that it involved a right of action generally. He however, would desire the jury—there being no evidence—in fact for the plaintiff in £200 to leave to move the court above as to the liability arising from the judgment in this case. The decree on which the levy was originally made, and which defendant alleged was stolen from his office, was produced in court on the part of the plaintiff.

CAPTAIN CLEGG.—Subscription received at this office.—Rev. Dr. Price, 5s. We insert elsewhere, a letter from W. W. Simpson, Esq., the extensive land agent, addressed to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant—Mr. Simpson's great experience, and extensive knowledge of the wants and capabilities of Ireland, are too well known to require comment. We strongly recommend the attentive perusal of his letter.

Doctor Sweeney is elected physician to the Cork dispensary, in the room of Doctor O'Connor, lately elected physician to the Cork Workhouse. The first meeting of the Board of Guardians for the Kanturk Union took place on Thursday. The person elected to fill the office of Clerk to the Union will only receive £40 a year.

Sheridan Knowles appears on the Cork boards this week. In Wexford it is calculated that the sale of whiskey at present is not much above the one twentieth of its former amount.

The Duke and Duchess of Rovigo have arrived at Attiflin, near Limerick, from Paris. The Count De Salis has appointed Daniel Barrington, of Limerick, Esq., agent to the Irish estates.

THE POST OFFICE.—A London correspondent informs us that the Post-office stamped covers for letters are in a state of great forwardness. The penny cover is of a blue color, the heavier ones brownish, and the detached slip (which may be attached to any cover) is square shaped. The engraving on all of them is a medallion of the Queen's most Excellent Majesty. The Post office, by way of securing for valuable parcels is to give a receipt for any such, when required, on payment of one half penny sterling; and forms of the receipt are to be furnished, and to be filled up by parties taking the letters to the office.—Caledonian Mercury.

VIDUDES IN PARIS.—A suicidal epidemic is now raging in Paris. On Saturday a student cut his throat, and then threw himself out of a window four stories high. On Friday M. Leroy was found dead in his bed, having cut his throat. The same day, a man, of upwards of 40, threw himself out of a window, five stories high, and was dashed to pieces. Lastly, a carman was seen to knock down on the banks of the St. Martin Canal, and after uttering a short prayer, plunge into the water, from which he could not be extricated before he was a corpse.

The writing clerks in the Equity Chambers, Dublin, are paid at the rate of 15d per sheet. In future no clerks having a salary are to enjoy any perquisites, and the assistants to the general clerks are to be paid by salary. By an arrangement lately entered into by the gentlemen at present in the office are to remain.

On Saturday, a large meeting of the gentry, and landholders of the county of Meath, was held in the Court House of Trim, for the purpose of addressing her Majesty on her marriage with Prince Albert. The address was carried unanimously. The thanks of the meeting were given to Chief Justice Doherty for his kindness in offering to support the business of his court in order to give it up for the use of the meeting.

The City of Limerick Assize Court was occupied on Thursday and Friday with the trial of Philip Henry (Holland, Esq., and Frances his wife, for cruelty to their servant boy and girl, Henry Fojolas and Mary Anne Aleock. The prisoners were found guilty, and Judge Perrin sentenced each to be imprisoned for twelve months, one week in each six to be solitary and the male prisoner to pay a fine to her Majesty of Five hundred pounds.

On the night of Saturday the 22d ult., as three poor men were returning from the market of Killeuleny, they were attacked at a place called Newbury, within half a mile of the town, by four men, one of whom was armed with a pistol, the remainder with whips. They knocked the three men down, and took £2 10s. and nine empty corn sacks from one, and £1 7s from another, and after beating them for some time, made their escape.

A MEETING held at the NEW TOWN HALL, Waterford, on THURSDAY, the 27th day of February. The Mayor in the Chair.

It was moved by Counsellor Harris, and seconded by Major Gahan: That the Meeting convened for this day to address the Queen, Prince Albert and the Duchess of Kent, on the occasion of her Majesty's nuptials, be postponed until THIS DAY WEEK, in consequence of the non attendance of a number of respectable citizens, engaged in transacting the fiscal business of the City, and the want of sufficient publicity.

A fire broke out on Friday morning at half past 4 o'clock in the Waterloo House, the property of Mr. Swinburn, adjoining Mr. Gahewy's Mail Coach Office, in Winthrop street, Cork, but owing to the prompt attendance of the Royal Exchange and Scottish Union engines with the West of England, and the exertions of Captain Gunn and the police under the directions of the Mayor and Sheriff, the flames were quickly subdued, but nevertheless, until between £400 and £450 worth of property had been destroyed. Had it extended to the hay and straw in the next yard the destruction would have been immense. The family had a miraculous escape; the fire having broken out in the lower part of the establishment, all means of retreat for the inmates were cut off, but the Police, after great difficulty forced the front door, and succeeded in suppressing the conflagration and rescuing the family.

On Friday morning, the 21st ult., a young man named Heade accidentally fell into a cesspool at the Sliabh ardagh collieries, and was unfortunately killed on the spot, having fallen a distance of nearly sixty feet.
