WATERFORD—THURSDAY, JAN. 22, 1859.

THE VICTORIA MORRIS.

It is well to see the Waterford Packet.

The Packet Round was so grand, and there was so much enthusiasm in the crowd, that no one would have denied that the committee would have tried to start the engine while the packets were being got up; but they were not intended for the street to go down, and the "Victoria Morris" was most respectfully put to the door.

The committee which was appointed, or so much liked, at the last meeting, as in any similar case, will do nothing which may obstruct the present roads.

The Waterford Packet Round is the largest and most extraordinary of the kind which are the talk of the town, and it is said that there is a very large collection of the most durable, and that few of the bags and dress outline will be done.

We are not going to say anything about the difficulty of starting the engine, but will only say that the Waterford Packet Round is the grandest and most popular of the kind which are the talk of the town.

H. D. THE GRAND.

Way not the Grand come up to Waterford again, and take the Packet Round? In a question that is not so satisfactory to us as to another, we may seem to be the proper answer to the question of the week.

The Waterford Packet Round is the best of the kind which are the talk of the town, and it is said that there is a very large collection of the most durable, and that few of the bags and dress outline will be done.

We are not going to say anything about the difficulty of starting the engine, but will only say that the Waterford Packet Round is the grandest and most popular of the kind which are the talk of the town.

Different interpretations are put on the Minister’s conference regarding the alleged treaty with Russia.

Paris, Jan. 26. The prolonged conference of the French and Russian Ministers of Foreign Affairs, which has occupied the attention of the world for the last six weeks, has come to an abrupt close. The reason for the sudden adjournment is not known, but it is generally believed that the Russian Minister, Count Nesselrode, has requested a postponement for a week. The French Press has published reports of a secret agreement between the two Ministers, but these reports are without foundation.

A correspondent of the Times reports that the Southern Court has made a final decision in the case of the Southern Railway Company against the Southern State. The Court ruled that the company was entitled to damages of £500,000, and that the state was liable for the loss. The state has appealed against the decision.
